

Alberte Martínez is Professor of Economic History at the University of A Coruña (Spain).

He has been Visiting fellow in several European and American universities.

His main research fields are utilities (gas, electricity, transport, water) and foreign investment in utilities. He has published several articles and books about these subjects in Spanish and international journals.